From the top of his head there projects a peg or short stem, as in the Corchiano specimen shown in Fig. 3; and on the top of the peg is-- apparently fixed--a bronze disc four inches in diameter, exactly corresponding with the loose disc from Corchiano. Careful examination shows, however, that there is a hole in the centre of the disc, and that a small rounded projection from the otherwise flat top of the rod fits into it, the edges of the hole being slightly curved upwards. Owing to oxidation, the disc now sticks to the rod; but I convinced myself that a very slight force would be sufficient to detach it. If it were to become detached (an accident which should, of course, now by all means be avoided), it would, when restored...
